

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE BY CRAY & STRADIGI AI

Quickly get value from your artificial intelligence projects with Cray and Stradigi AI. Our combined expertise delivers a complete deep learning solution that will help your organization get business value from AI projects, whether you're just starting out or already in production.

PARTNERING TO DELIVER AI VALUE

Artificial intelligence is becoming a business requirement. You know your organization needs to invest in AI — but the infrastructure is complex and evolving. Cray and Stradigi AI can set you up with everything you need to succeed.

We can help you start from the ground up, or map out the next steps for your existing AI implementation.

STRADIGI AI SOLUTIONS

Stradigi AI is one of the largest artificial intelligence solution providers in North America, backed by an applied research lab committed to bringing excellence and smarter results to international businesses.

Its passionate research scientists devote their time to identifying challenges and providing custom AI solutions that are built by its talented software engineers, providing a full ecosystem for AI innovation. Learn more at stradigi.ai.

CRAY ACCEL AI INFRASTRUCTURE

When you're under pressure to shorten time to value, Cray Accel AI offerings ease the process with a single system suited to your specific workflow. Cray Accel AI gives you the right-sized infrastructure for your project and for the application Stradigi AI delivers. Learn more at cray.com/ai.

- Streamline your organization's AI workflow
- Everything you need to go from exploration to production
- Test, launch and grow your deep learning initiatives

Wherever you are in the AI adoption process, Cray and Stradigi AI can help. We have the expertise, tools and support network to guide you to success, whether you're just starting out or ready for production AI.

You get a ready-to-go package from the experts in AI and supercomputing.

